Upload

To submit your chapter, please click on the chapter title under “My Chapters”. You will be directed to the chapter upload page. You can upload your files by “Dragging & Dropping” or “Upload” button.

The screenshot shows the 'Textbook of Stereotactic and Functional Neurosurgery' contributor view. It features a 'My Chapters' tab and a search bar. A list of chapters is displayed, including 'Introduction' by Stephen Young. A blue arrow points to the 'Introduction' chapter title with the text 'Click the chapter your want to submit content'. Below this, the 'Introduction' chapter page is shown, displaying chapter information and the author's name. A blue arrow points to the chapter title 'Introduction' with the text 'Chapter information and author'. The page includes a 'Files' section with a 'Download all' button and a progress bar. A blue arrow points to the 'Upload files' button with the text 'Drag & Drop files in the file manager (here) or upload by clicking "Upload files" button'. An inset window titled 'Upload files' is shown, containing a text area for file selection, a 'Select files' button, and 'Cancel' and 'Upload' buttons.

Submission

Please click on “submit” after uploading your files. Your chapter will then be locked for further submission and will be reviewed for content by the editors. If a revision is required, you will receive a revision request comment and the chapter will be opened for resubmission.

When article is accepted to publish, it moves to production. The proof will be sent to you by Springer vendor for review.
